

Peter Krohn here from Distinctive Products. I wanted to show you a new product that is really a show stopper for all sorts of trade events and promotional opportunities. Distinctive Products is about innovative and unique products and I want to introduce you to the logoed chip.

- These chips can add value and differentiate any company's message from the competition by the innovative way they market the business and present any message.
- This product will be something that is retained by the customer and used over and over so that people will talk about it.
- Great for events either on or off the golf course. Anything can be printed on them with a different message on both sides.
- Great as a business card, as vouchers to be used for promo activities by companies, an easy giveaway at that special event, great at fund raisers and can be used with clever marketing hook lines.
- There are 13 colours to choose from.

Please have a look at our web site www.distinctivegolf.com.au for further details on these and the other items we have or call us on 0408330800. We look forward to hearing back from you. The feedback to this innovative product has been fantastic. Many thanks.
